Impediments to Resolving the Crisis in Argentina

Luis Moreno Ocampo
Transparency International

Luis Moreno Ocampo has been working against corruption since 1998. From 1985 to 1987 he was a prosecutor in cases against the generals who ruled Argentina in the years of military dictatorship. From 1988 to 1992 he was the criminal District Attorney of Buenos Aires, in charge of cases of military rebellion and dozens of corruption cases.

Since 1992, Ocampo has been in private practice in criminal law, working on cases of political bribery, protection of journalists, money laundering, and gender and money conflicts between shareholders of big companies. He is a visiting professor at Stanford University and Harvard University, and is the author of In Self-defense. How to avoid corruption? Since 1989, he has led the anti-corruption programme of Poder Ciudadano ("Citizen Power"), the Argentine national Chapter of Transparency International. Since 1995, he has been a Member of the Advisory Committee of TI, and he serves as President of the regional grouping of TI chapters in Latin America and the Caribbean (TILAC).

Mr. Moreno was elected as a Member of the Board of Directors at the Annual General Meeting in Casablanca, October 12-13, 2002.
