Batista: From Revolutionary to Strongman

Frank Argote-Freyre
Rutgers University

Frank Argote-Freyre is a Research Fellow and Ph.D. candidate in history at Rutgers University. His dissertation, “Fulgencio Batista: The Making of a Dictator” is based on archival research in Cuba and the United States. The first volume of his Batista biography is scheduled for publication in 2004. As part of his research, he conducted a series of oral history interviews concentrating on events of the prerevolutionary period of Cuban history. He served as Assistant Editor of CUBA, An Illustrated Encyclopedia, scheduled for publication in 2003. Prior to entering academia, Argote-Freyre worked 10 years as a journalist followed by a three-year stint as a press secretary in the United States Congress.

To reserve please send e-mail to cubaprocess@gc.cuny.edu or leave message at (212) 817-2096.

Location
Room C203 (Concourse Level)
The Graduate Center
365 Fifth Avenue
(Between 34th and 35th St.)

Friday
February, 21
5:00 p.m.