Brazil Month

Political and Economic Reform in Brazil: From Sarney to Lula

Zélia Cardoso
Former Finance Minister of Brazil

Mauricio Font
Bildner Center for Western Hemisphere Studies

Dr. Zélia Cardoso de Mello, a former Economy, Finance and Planning Minister of Brazil, is now living in NY and is ORIX Trade Capital’s senior advisor with respect to Brazilian business opportunities. In 1986, Mr. Dilson Funaro, the Minister of Finance, invited her to join his Economic Advisory Team as Director at the National Treasure Dept., where she stayed through May 1987. After leaving the Ministry she became a partner in a Brazilian trading company- Corema, until 1989. In 1990 she was appointed Minister of Economy, Finance and Planning. She served in that position until 1991, when she returned to the University of São Paulo and continued to work as a consultant to several Brazilian companies. She published several papers in Brazilian and foreign magazines. In 1985 she published “Metamorphosis of Wealth, São Paulo 1845-1895”. She participated as co-author and many others books.

Mauricio Font is director of the Bildner Center for Western Hemisphere Studies and professor of sociology at The Graduate Center and Queens College, City University of New York. His research examines problems of development and reform in Brazil, Cuba and Latin America as well as international cooperation in the Western Hemisphere. He has published a variety of essays on Latin America, the North American Free Trade Agreement and US-Latin America relations, Cuba, Brazil and the comparative-historical study of development trajectories in settler societies.

Friday, September 12, 4:30—6:30 p.m.
Room 9206
The Graduate Center