DISSECTOR PROPOSAL CLEARANCE: HUMAN PARTICIPANTS

Must be submitted by all students before research begins

All dissertation proposals that involve research with human participants must be reviewed and approved by The Graduate Center’s Committee on the Protection of Human Subjects. The review should take place, and final approval be obtained, during the proposal stage of the dissertation; research involving human participants may not begin until Committee approval has been granted. Approval must be obtained before the research has begun; approval will not be granted for research that has already begun. Please note that if the dissertation proposal is changed, the proposal must be reviewed and approved again by the Committee.

Any questions pertaining to this policy or the completion of the forms should be directed to Kay Powell, IRB Administrator, at 212-817-7525, kpowell@gc.cuny.edu.

______________________________    ________________________________
(Student’s Name)      (Dissertation Advisor’s Name)

I.D.No.______________________________

(Student’s Program)

Student’s Home Phone & email __________________________________________________________

Project Title:______________________________________________________________________________

 REQUIRED: Project Abstract (including methodology); attach and submit with this form.

Please check one:

______ YES, this dissertation involves the use of human participants in research. I request the Committee’s approval. (If applicable, include a copy of the Institutional Review Board’s (IRB) approval from another CUNY campus.)

______ NO, this dissertation does not involve the use of human participants in research.

______________________________    ________________________________
Student’s Signature      Date

______________________________    ________________________________
Dissertation Advisor’s Signature      Date

Send form and abstract to: Kay Powell, IRB Administrator, Room 8309

Approved:

______________________________    ________________________________
Signature, Chair, The Graduate Center      Date
Committee on the Protection of Human Subjects