Spring 2019
Immigration Seminar Series

Wednesday, February 13  4:30-6:00 PM
Demographic Threat and Whites’ Racial Classification of Others
Maria Abascal, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Columbia University

Wednesday, March 6  4:00-5:30 PM
Blaming Immigrants: Nationalism and the Economics of Global Movement
Neeraj Kaushal, Professor of Social Policy, Columbia School of Social Work

Wednesday, March 27  4:30-6:00 PM
Kugel and Frijoles: Latino Jews in the United States
Laura Limonic, Assistant Professor of Sociology, SUNY Old Westbury, PhD, CUNY Graduate Center
Commentator: Tahneer Oksman, Assistant Professor of Academic Writing, Marymount Manhattan College, author of How Come Boys Get to Keep Their Noses? Women and Jewish American Identity in Contemporary Graphic Memoirs

Thursday, April 11  4:30-6:00 PM
(Co-sponsored with Asian American/Asian Research Institute)
Centering Nativist Racism: How Doing So Helps Us Grasp New Forms of Citizenship and Would Have Predicted Trump
Nadia Kim, Professor of Sociology, Loyola Marymount University and 2018-19 Thomas Tam Visiting Professor of Sociology, CUNY Graduate Center
 Please RSVP to: https://19-04-11kim.eventbrite.com/

Wednesday, May 1  4:30-6:00 PM
(Co-sponsored with Ralph Bunche Institute for International Studies)
Governance Feminism and Postcolonial Difference: Headscarf Regulations in the Netherlands and Germany
Gökce Yurdakul, Georg Simmel Professor of Diversity and Social Conflict, Humboldt University of Berlin
Anna Korteweg, Professor of Sociology, University of Toronto Mississauga

--- A reception will follow each event ---

The Graduate Center, The City University of New York
365 Fifth Avenue (at 34th Street)
Room 6112 (Sociology Lounge)