We are doctoral students and Speech-Language-Pathologists interested in understanding how children learn language. We are currently conducting studies in our lab in Herald Square.

WE NEED: Children aged 3-12 years with English as their main language.

They will receive hearing screening and a full language assessment. Then, participate in engaging computer activities that will explore their understanding of vocabulary and sentences. Snacks and prizes will be provided!

Children will receive $15 per hour. Round-trip Metrocard fare will be provided. Parents will be given a report of their child’s test scores.
