The Mina Rees Library is a vital resource for scholars at The Graduate Center, across CUNY, and far beyond. The library houses about 210,000 titles in print and offers access to 884,000 e-books. Through interlibrary loan, we provide access to the world of scholarly works and cultural artifacts—books, articles, and unpublished material. Reference services provide 24/7 on-the-spot research support. And when the research is accomplished, librarians work with faculty and students to make ideas and innovations available openly to readers both inside and outside the academy.

Find Answers Quickly

Locating the right sources can be a trying process, and Graduate Center librarians are here to help. In 2018–2019, they answered a record 8,500 reference questions —4,500 in person and 4,000 over chat.

Get the Help You Need

GC librarians divide responsibilities over 60 subject areas, spanning the range of Graduate Center disciplines. In 2018–2019, they conducted 360 hour-long, face-to-face research consultations with students and faculty.

Get Your Ideas Out

CUNY scholars, leaders in public higher education, are important sources of knowledge for the world. GC librarians work with faculty and students to share and preserve scholarship openly in the CUNY Academic Works repository. The Graduate Center has contributed over 5,400 dissertations, articles, and other pieces of scholarship, which were downloaded over 528,000 times worldwide in 2018–2019.
