

Creative GC, Art and Science Connect Dissertation Fellowship
for the 2021-2022 Academic Year

Deadline for Applications: February 24, 2021, by 5pm

The Graduate Center is pleased to announce the Creative GC, Art and Science Connect Dissertation Fellowship, with funding from the James Family Charitable Foundation. The Dissertation Fellowship will be awarded to a student in any field of the humanities, social sciences, or the sciences pursuing research whose main question is driven by an exploration of topics that intersect art and science and bridges the gap between the two fields. Dissertation Fellows will be expected to participate in activities associated with Creative GC, Art and Science Connect, including public programs, conferences, and panels as well as present their research in a public forum. The award provides a financial aid fellowship of $25,000 and covers in-state tuition.

Eligibility Requirements and Guidelines

Students must be registered or on an approved leave of absence during the 2020-2021 academic year to be eligible to apply. For your application to be considered, you must be officially advanced to candidacy (level III) by the application deadline.

A student holding a five-year fellowship from the Graduate may not hold a dissertation fellowship concurrently with the five-year award. A student with a five-year award may apply, but if selected for a dissertation fellowship the student will have to choose between the five-year fellowship funding and the dissertation fellowship funding. Students are eligible for a dissertation fellowship after completing their five-year fellowship.

A student with Graduate Center funding that is not part of a five-year award (a freestanding Graduate Assistantship A, B, or D and/or financial aid fellowship) may apply for the dissertation fellowships but, if offered an award, the total funding (Graduate Assistantship salary plus financial aid fellowship) may not exceed $50,000.

Dissertation Fellowships are intended for students who expect to complete the dissertation during 2021-2022 award year. Fellowship recipients are required to be registered during the award year. Students who qualify for the Ph.D. in time for an October 2021 degree are not eligible to receive funding.

Please be advised that if you are planning any travel as part of your research, the university requires you to have travel insurance. Please see the International Travel Requirements Page for complete details.

Students must have met Human Subjects Research Protection guidelines before commencing research with human subjects.
