If you get sick, these are the steps you should take...

As an instructor/TA:

1. Contact the chair of your department
2. Assess the extent to which your lesson/materials are prepped for future classes

As a student:

1. Contact the instructor
2. Contact Matthew Schoengood (mschoengood@gc.cuny.edu) from Student Affairs and provide the following information:
  - Name and Graduate Center affiliation
  - Current symptoms and date they appeared
  - Date and location you were last on campus
  - How you believe you may have been infected
3. If the instructor does not adjust expectations appropriately, contact the Training Area Head, ombudsperson, or Psychology Executive Officer

As a researcher:

1. Contact your advisor
2. Shift responsibilities to RAs

For additional questions or concerns, please contact Michelle Fine, mfine@gc.cuny.edu

If you're experiencing symptoms (including cough and fever), stay home and care for yourself. Call your doctor if the symptoms persist. Currently, the CDC recommends seeking medical attention if you develop emergency warning signs such as:

- Trouble breathing
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to arouse
- Bluish lips or face
