Research Methods Reading List
 Comprehensive Exams 2019

- Aufderheide, Patricia. (2016) “Does this have to go through the IRB?” available at http://www.chronicle.com/article/Does-This-Have-to-Go/237476

• Gary Kleck, Jongyeon Tark, Jon J. Bellows. 2006. “What methods are most frequently used in research in criminology and criminal justice?” Journal of Criminal Justice, 34: 147-152.

• Lake & Parkinson (2017). The Ethics of Fieldwork Preparedness. Available at http://politicalviolenceataglance.org/2017/06/05/the-ethics-of-fieldwork-preparedness/

• Liang, Bin, Lu, Hong, Miethe, Terance D., Zhang, Lening; Sources of Variation in Pro-Death Penalty Attitudes in China: An Exploratory Study of Chinese Students at Home and Abroad. The British Journal of Criminology, Volume 46, Issue 1, 1 January 2006, Pages 119–130, https://doi-org.ez.lib.jjay.cuny.edu/10.1093/bjc/azi048

• Majic, Samantha. 2014. "Political Participation Despite the Odds: Examining Sex Workers’ Political Engagement." New Political Science 36 (1):76-95

• Sabar, G., & Sabar Ben-Yehoshua, N. (2017). ‘I'll sue you if you publish my wife’s interview’: ethical dilemmas in qualitative research based on life stories. Qualitative Research, 17(4), 408-423.

St Denny, Emily. 2014. ""the Personal is Political Science": Epistemological and Methodological Issues in Feminist Social Science Research on Prostitution." Journal of International Women’s Studies 16 (1): 76-90

